Welch Wants New Trial

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., April 12—James Welch, who was found guilty by a jury yesterday on a charge of the murder of J. S. Thomason, today announced at the jail he would ask for a new trial. He is quoted as saying "I am as confident as ever I will get out by and bye. My conscience is clear because I shot him in self defense."

Imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Frankfort for the remainder of his life was the punishment meted out to James Welch, farmer, of Donnell, for the murder of J. S. Thomason, traveling salesman, on December 24, 1919, by the jury in circuit court at Lexington which heard his case and reached a verdict early Saturday morning.

The first ballot taken by the jury it is understood, showed that eight of them were for the death penalty, while four for life imprisonment. On a ballot taken some time later, it is said, the vote stood six for death and six for life imprisonment. A compromise was finally reached and the entire body voted for life imprisonment, this being handed to the court.

The members of the jury were: C. E. Eskin, C. A. Berry, J. D. Reed, F. W. Collier, W. L. Huffman, J. S. Dunn, Lawrence Flynn, L. B. Sapp, W. W. Remaker, J. W. Beard, J. T. Gary and A. E. Hammon.

Welch was convicted for shooting Thomason to death on Main street the day before Christmas in the presence of thousands of people. Thomason was shot six times by Welch. He died minutes before he fell to the street.

Commonwealth's Attorney John B. Allen, in presenting his case for the prosecution, proved that an illicit love affair had existed between Welch and Mrs. Thomason, the wife of the man who was killed.

Mrs. Thomason was viciously assaulted by Colonel Allen in his address to the jury Saturday for misconduct. Mrs. Thomason was seated in the machine just a few feet away from where her husband was killed by Welch when the fatal shooting occurred.

Mrs. Thomason is at present under indictment with Welch for murder, their cases being tried separately, this being requested by the defense.

The case of Mrs. Thomason has been postponed until the July term of circuit court upon motion of the defense. Colonel Allen agreed to this.

In the closing arguments for the commonwealth delivered Saturday night, the photograph of Mrs. Thomason, found on Welch's person when he was arrested, was exhibited to the jury by Colonel Allen as was also the love letter said to have been from her to him and a postcard with an endearing message on it. Colonel Allen recited the visits of Welch to Mrs. Thomason's home, when he said Welch would remain until late at night "chaperoned" by her babies and the negro girl.

Every available foot of space in the courtroom was taken and the crowd overflowed into the lobby. It was estimated there were between 600 and 700 people present. Colonel Allen said he thought it was the largest crowd he had ever seen in the court room. Attorney Wallace Muir, representing Mrs. Thomason, said he thought the throwing out of the conspiracy testimony in the Welch case would have a big effect on Mrs. Thomason's case. The indictment against Mrs. Thomason charged her with murder and conspiracy in the murder. Mr. Muir said it was his opinion she could now only be tried as a principal in the murder.

A ruling by Judge Kerr, declared that part of the testimony relating to a conspiracy between Mrs. Thomason and Welch to be incompetent.

W. C. G. Dahms and Maury Kemper, in their summing-up arguments to the jury spoke of the lack of "positive" witnesses on the part of the Commonwealth to prove that Thomason did not have a knife in his hand.

They said the Commonwealth's witness all admitted their attention to the shouting and was first attracted by the actual facts and they did not notice what took place between the two men previously.

The defense said the attorneys had two "positive" witnesses in the persons of Dewey Marrs and Lucy Hockaday, both of whom said they had seen a knife in Thomason's hands. They explained the girl's actions in last making the statement Thomason did not have a knife by saying she had been surrounded by police and detectives, who shouted "Alert" every time she told the truth about the knife.

Mr. Kemper asserted the woman whose affidavits were not responded to by her husband, was yearning for someone to treat her well.

All testimony offered by the Commonwealth and previously admitted by the court upon the theory of a criminal conspiracy between the defendant Mrs. J. S. Thomason, to take the life of Thompson, and all testimony offered and admitted for the avowed purpose of establishing a criminal conspiracy between the two, was ordered excluded from the consideration of the jury by Judge Kerr in giving his instructions.

Dr. Gibson's Testimony Excluded

The jury was also instructed that all testimony given by the witnesses Lucy Hockaday, Dr. W. M. Gibson or any other witness regarding a bottle of whisky alleged to have been found by Thompson in his automobile or to have been given him by a stranger, was also expressly excluded from consideration by the jury.

In addition, Judge Kerr ordered that the jury not consider any statements made or alleged to have been made by Thompson or any statements said to have been made by Mrs. Thompson in regard to the poisoned whisky, or anything connected with it.

Judge Kerr, further instructed the jury that all testimony given by any witness in regard to conversations between the witness, Will Smith, and Mrs. Thompson, regarding some work or "dirty work" of any proposal to "put away" a man alleged to have been Thompson, or anything in regard to that witness' testimony in regard to those alleged circumstances, by any witness was to be excluded from its consideration.

Welch Tells His Story

Jas. Welch was put on the stand in his own behalf by the defense late Saturday. Mrs. Thomason, he said, was just a friend of his and he stated he did not know why she wrote him the love letter or the endearing phrases in his handbook. He said he was 37 years old, had lived in the Donnell neighborhood for about four years, that his wife died two years ago last January and that he met Mrs. Thomason at the home of her sister, Mrs. Baker.

Prior to meeting Mrs. Thomason at Mrs. Baker's home, the defendant said he had not known her. He said he first started going to see Mrs. Thomason alone in the summer after selling a pony for her. He said he did not know Thomason very well and only met him at the house on one occasion.

That occasion was when he went to the Thomason home to turn over the check for the pony. It was about 8 or 8:30 o'clock at night, he asserted. Thomason came to the front door, shook it and then walked around towards the rear of the house, he said. Mrs. Thomason went out and told him to come in the front door as "there is nobody here by Mr. Welch."

He said he had been there fifteen or twenty minutes, when Thomason came and that he remained five or ten minutes after the husband's arrival. He denied he hurried off or had any reason to do so.

In reply to a question by his attorney, the defendant said he had received the letter from Mrs. Thomason which was found on his person when he was arrested prior to the pony transaction. He said he did not know how she happened to be there.

When he called on Mrs. Thomason, Welch said he did not remember whether Mrs. Thomason had told him about an interview with Smith. He was pressed further and said she did not mention it.

When asked if he was told by his attorney that he had been poisoned, he said he did not remember just when it was done or the exact circumstances.

"Did you pay so little attention to what Mrs. Thomason told you that you don't remember?" was asked.

Welch then said he remembered having her say something about Thomason being poisoned when near Richmond, that she said he had picked up stranger on the road who gave him a drink.

The defendant stated he had gone driving with Mrs. Thomason once or twice—just pleasure drives out in the country.

After Welch's sister, Mrs. Goldie Stivers, had told of family visits exchanged with the Thomason, witnesses who had known Welch from four to twenty years, were called and testified that his reputation was good.

J. W. Thacker, mayor of Georgetown, Harry Bangs, manager of Walnut Hall, Frank B. Nunnelley, sheriff of Scott County; James Craig, president of the Georgetown National Bank; H. D. Stockdale of Georgetown; Dewey Marrs, 21-year-old witness, Scott county farmer, could not refrain from arguing with the Commonwealth's attorney, and the court warned him that he would be sent to jail if he did not desist.

He was talking to Jess and Laura Maris, his cousins from Mercer county. He had not seen Thomason or Welch. He observed a man and woman talking at a machine close to him. She was in the car and he was on the street at the car's front door. A man passed in front of him, and his attention was attracted by the woman calling his name, "Thomason."

"Mrs. Thomason," the defendant said, "saw me standing there and called me over. They had been talking about the sale of her automobile five or ten minutes when Thomason came up." His attention to Thomason was attracted by Mrs. Thomason, who said, "There's Mr. Thomason." She said it twice in quick succession, he testified.

Welch emphatically denied that he was a party to any conspiracy to kill Thomason. He said he had not seen Mrs. Thomason until just prior to the difficulty, that he had no arrangement to meet her there at that time and that he did not even know that Thomason was in the city.

"Mrs. Thomason," the defendant said, "saw me standing there and called me over. They had been talking about the sale of her automobile five or ten minutes when Thomason came up." His attention to Thomason was attracted by Mrs. Thomason, who said, "There's Mr. Thomason." She said it twice in quick succession, he testified.

Thomason, said Welch, came from the sidewalk hurriedly. He had his right hand in his pocket and wanted to know "what in the hell I was doing there." Welch said he started back off and Thomason drew a knife and advanced on him. "I got my gun out of my pocket and started shooting."

The husband looked "pretty rough" said Welch, and he said anger was visible all over Thomason's face. Welch said Thomason was within about four feet of him when Thomason drew a knife, which, Welch stated, was open when Thomason pulled it from his pocket.

Welch said after backing off, Thomason continued to advance and he (Welch) shot three or four times and stopped. Thomason, he said, continued to advance and he fired another series of shots and continued to shoot "until my gun quit."

Welch said on his direct examination that he had heard the testimony Friday of Will Smith, who said Mrs. Thomason had tried to hire him to "put somebody off" and that she later admitted it was her husband. The defendant said he knew absolutely nothing about the alleged transaction.

Upon his cross-examination by Col. Allen, Welch said on two occasions he stayed a little later than usual. One night it was raining and he remained until 12 o'clock.

No love passage passed between Mrs. Thomason and himself except the letter and the postcard, Welch declared. He stated he never mentioned love to her as their acquaintance was only a friendly one.

The letter was read to Welch. In part it said, "I hope when this reaches you it finds you true to your promise and remember, I will be true and a faithful to you, dear heart."

"What promise does she refer to?" Col. Allen asked.

"I know not," said Welch.

"What do you understand by this lady writing to you in these terms and referring to a promise?"

"I don't know."

"Did you ever ask her to explain?"

"No."

Welch said the buggy from which he secured the picture, was brought out to his farm about a week before he sold the pony. He was cleaning it when he found the picture.

He was asked if he were not astonished and amazed at receiving a letter from a woman with whom he had only a friendly acquaintance, and in which he was addressed as "sweetheart."

"Well, some little bit," he said.

"Why did you never refer to it to her?"

"I thought no more about it."

He was asked if he understood what was meant by the expression, "Do you love me (G) No—Yes—No." He said he did not. The fact this letter was mailed in February and the postcard in July and that they were found in his person on December 24th, was emphasized by Col. Allen.

"Why did you always carry a pistol when you went to call on a lady and the babies?" the defendant was asked.

"I always carried it at night," he said, "but had previously stated he had been carrying a revolver for two or three years."

"Why do you take it out of your coat pocket and put it in your outer coat pocket when you went to the Thomason home?"

"There was danger the children might knock the overcoat down," he replied. He said he always laid the overcoat on a chair or on the bed and never hung it on a hatrack.

Welch, in reply to questions, said he did not know that Thomason objected to his calling on Mrs. Thomason.

Silas Garrett was in county court Saturday upon a warrant sworn out by his wife Rosa Garrett charging him with deserting his infant children Rose, John and James Garrett. He gave bond of $500 that he will contribute $35 a month for the support of the children and the warrant was dismissed.

Mrs. Pattie Ellison is back from Akron, Ohio, where she visited her son, Amos Ellison who has had a splendid position there for several years. There a number of other Madison county boys in Akron, she says, and all have "made good."

Chicago, April 12—Developments west of Pittsburgh in the switchmen's unauthorized strike are regarded by Railroad Brotherhood officials as pointing to gradual dissolution of the insurgent forces but in the east where the walk-out has been joined in several districts by trainmen, the situation has assumed a more serious aspect.

Mrs. Oldham was elected corresponding secretary at the first State convention of the association held in Lexington in October 1919, and will appoint someone to fill the vacancy created by her acceptance of the executive position. She is the third president of the organization, the newest of women's patriotic societies.

Mrs. Reuben Hutchcraft, of Paris, was the first elected and served her term. Mrs. Harrison Gardner Foster of Lexington, who was elected president at the State convention in Oct., resigned several weeks ago.

At the board meeting Tuesday splendid reports were heard from the chapters in the various counties, the Frankfort County War Mothers giving an exceptionally fine record of progress. Many plans for the further growth of the association, especially by the organization of war mothers in the mountain counties, were made. A luncheon will be given soon, and the next convention will be held in Louisville in October.

Our Dwindling Beef-Cattle Herds

The United States is heading toward bankruptcy in its beef-cattle supply," declares A. L. Spellmeyer in "The Country Gentleman" of March 6th.

"In 1907 our beef cattle numbered 51,566,000 and in 1919 the total had fallen to 44,385,000. In that year 1907 the total there were 7,621,717 cattle and 1,763,574 calves slaughtered under government inspection. In 1919, with the available supply of cattle more than seven million fewer, we slaughtered 10,928,287 cattle and 3,323,077 calves.

"We are expecting today something like 44,000,000 cattle to supply round 15,000,000 annually for slaughter, maintain numbers against loss and increase production to keep pace with a rapidly growing population. Any veteran cattlemen will tell you that it can't be done."

Drought, uncertain prices and range hogging by the big outfits is driving the small cattlemen out of the business and yet the little cattlemen offers the biggest hope of replenishing the vanishing herds.

"Steps must be taken to safeguard the cattlemen against loss. There is no time to waste. It will require years to build back our beef herds to a point where the supply can be depended upon to meet the demands. It is up to our legislators to turn us back from our march toward bankruptcy in beef cattle."

Report Of Farm Sale

Swinebroad, the real estate man of Lancaster, Kentucky, reports that on April 6th he sold at public auction for W. D. Purdon, 183 3-4 acres at an average price of $200 per acre. The farm was 1 in two tracts, 117 3-4 acres

O. Durham at $225 per acre and 65 acres to Colon Campbell for $10,200. And on April 7th he sold at auction for J. W. Brown 207 acres in two tracts; 155 acres to C. W. Yankey at $135.50 per acre and 52 acres to Len Bradshaw at $130.50 per acre. Total sales for the two farms was $64,476.78.

These farms are located in Washington county, and as usual when Swinebroad conducts the sales, they are satisfactory to all concerned. A lot of personal property was also sold and brought good prices.

Swinebroad, together with his assistants, W. E. Moss and R. H. Dever who have charge of his Danville office are kept busy all the time and their services are much sought after by those who want to sell farms on account of their experience in the business, their system of advertising and method of conducting sales and from the further fact that Swinebroad "Always sells."

Each Had a Reason.

A neighbor who had been working hard all day decided she wanted a little recreation, so she remarked to the family at supper that she was going to a show tonight, just to get out. The little 3-year-old daughter looked up and said: "I'm going to the show just to get in."

Would You Lose If Your Property Burned Today?

The destruction of that $5,000 home you built a few years ago would lose to you the original cost, plus another $5,000. For it costs $10,000 now to build the $5,000 home of 1914.

Likewise the loss of today of the business property that cost $50,000 before Germany went mad, would be $100,000—probably $100,000 would not replace it.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Missionary Society Entertained

Mrs. T. M. Wells entertained the Missionary Society of the First Baptist church Friday afternoon in the church auditorium. It was probably the largest attendance at any meeting since the society was organized, fully three fourths of the members being present. Mrs. C. H. Park, the President presided and the meeting was opened by repeating the Lord's prayer after which the roll call and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Secretary. Mrs. Shelton Saufley. Motion was made by Mrs. Jasper at a previous meeting that the society present a check to Miss Brown, the missionary, who worked so faithfully during the vacation last summer and receives her diploma at the Training school in June. A very substantial check was sent, which met with hearty approval of every member of the society. The business session being concluded the literary part of program was, in charge of Mrs. L. P. Evans. Mrs. Jasper, and Mrs. Waggoner contributing numbers and Mrs. T. D. Chenault sang. A delicious social hour was then enjoyed, the hostess serving delicious brief cream and cake. Misses Lou Wells, Mary Bronson and Christine Sandlin furnished music on violin and piano, which added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. S. P. Deatherage, Miss Elizabeth Adams, Miss Bessie Estelle Stone and Miss Elizabeth Gardner.

Entertained for Birthday

Mrs. Joe Shearer entertained at her home at Ravenna the past week in honor of the birthday anniversary of her father, Mrs. B. K. Duncan. Mr. Dave Powers of Richmond was present for the hospitable affair.

Dance of Risk

A number of the youngest society set gave a delightful dance at church Saturday evening. An orchestra furnished the music. Among the dancers were Mr. Ballard Luxon, Jr., and Miss Sara Chenault, Mr. William Langford and Miss Emma Oldham, Mr. Edgar Higgins and Miss Lucia Bennett, Mr. Shelton Saufley, Jr., and Miss Mary Barr Clay, Mr. Lafon Wilson and Miss Marie Langford, Mr. William Blanton and Miss Caroline Rice, Mr. Leslie Evans Jr., and Miss Mary E. Something More Than Profits

Most men are in business for the purpose of making money—you understand that. The profits are the objective.

All right. The next question is: How can we make our business pay the best profit? And in the answer to that question lies the big difference between business. We figure that a small margin on a large volume of sales is more profitable than a large profit on each sale. We figure that if we serve our community by having the right goods and selling them at a fair price; and giving each purchaser our assurance that he shall have satisfaction or money back, our profits take care of themselves.

Service is more than profits—it's really the source of profit.

"IT HAS MADE A NEW WOMAN OF ME"

That Is What Mrs. Bartlett Says
After Taking Tanlac

"Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine to do what it has done for me," was the statement made the other day by Mrs. Frances Bartlett who lives at 1106 Norwood Ave., Toledo, O.

"For the past five or six years I suffered so much from stomach trouble, nervousness and a general run down condition that I saw little pleasure in life," Mrs. Bartlett continued. "And then when I had the influenza over a year ago it left me so weak and miserable that I almost suffered a complete breakdown. I was unable to even sweep the floor, for I would give out completely and when my husband had to get some one to keep the house it hurt me so that I almost gave up heart. My digestion was so bad that I nearly lost my appetite, and what I did eat bloated me up with gas and caused me to suffer agonies from pains in my stomach. Dizzy, nauseating spells would come over me suddenly and I would have to lie down wherever I happened to be. I was so weak and short-winded that I could not walk full block without having to stop and rest. I was so nervous that for the past two years I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep. In fact, I had fallen off in weight, and was in such a miserable condition that I just hate to think what a wreck I was and can hardly understand how I held out as long as I did."

"About a month ago my husband came home with a bottle of Tanlac and said he had been hearing so much about it that he wanted me to try it. I began to improve right away and now, although I have taken only three bottles, I feel that I have been made over into a new woman. I eat just anything I want and am never troubled afterwards in the least. Those dizzy, nauseating spells don't bother me any more and I am doing all my house-work by myself. The nervousness has all left me and I am now enjoying sound, restful sleep every night. Already I have gained eight pounds in weight and have more strength and energy than I have had in six years. I am just so happy over what Tanlac has done for me that I want to tell other suffering people about this medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton & Son.

If you run a farm you are or will be in need of a FORDSON FARM TRACTOR. We have repeatedly warned prospective customers of the demand for TRACTORS all over the world, and urged that they do not hesitate if they need one. Now the shortage is getting acute, and like the Ford car, we are running behind the demand. The tractor has proven its sterling qualities the world over, as a FARMING necessity. For economy in first cost, and in maintenance, for speed in turning out work, for simplicity in construction, for ease of learning how to use them, they are in a class alone. Then we have all parts for repairs, and give immediate service. Any one who has had to wait for repairs on motor vehicles knows the value of immediate service. They will be worth three teams of mules in breaking and seeding, and eliminate two men, and under belt they cannot be excelled for any purpose from threshing to rock crushing.

Mrs. Boyd Tells How Her Daughter Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Danville, Ill.—"My daughter was very delicate and we thought we could not raise her. She was troubled with irregularity and she was not able to go to school. For a year we gave her all kinds of tonics but none good. One day one of your little books was thrown on our porch and I saw what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and what it might do for her. Now she is getting fat and goes to school every day. You can tell every mother what the Vegetable Compound has done for my daughter."—Mrs. J. H. BOYD, 1502 N. Jackson St., Danville, Ill.

MUSIC LOVERS TO HEAR YSAVE TUESDAY

Madison music lovers will have another opportunity Tuesday afternoon and evening, April 13th to hear the great Symphony Orchestra of Cincinnati, at Lexington. Ysaye brings with him a more splendid combination of talent than ever before and he himself is widely known not only at one of the greatest of all violin virtuosos but also a conductor second to none with an experience of many fruitful years. The musical public should accept this as their greatest privilege and should realize its importance as a soul-stirring force in the education of the young. Parents should see it that the children whether they are studying music or not take every occasion to hear good music. If they only know jazz music or the comic opera that will be the limit of their musical intelligence and appreciation. Richmond is one of the most musical towns in the state and boasts a multiplicity of clubs. The Lexington management counts on Richmond for the artists series. Let us not lose our reputation as patrons of art but send over a hundred strong to hear Ysaye and his great organization. It is one of the aims of the National Federation as well as the musical clubs of the state to establish local orchestras in the larger towns. The mind of the musical public may prove a real influence in bringing about a condition toward such an accomplishment and Louisville and Lexington may in course of time compete with the larger cities in such an organization.

NO FACTION CAN "RIDE" ON COX'S CANDIDACY

(Louisville Times)

If any faction or group of Kentucky Democratic politicians had planned to make a fight for committee control under the aegis of the candidacy of Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio for the Democratic presidential nomination the idea has been abandoned. The Times is in possession of information on this point sufficiently direct to be stated without reservation.

When Kentucky politicians visited Governor Cox at Columbus recently and expressed their interest in his candidacy he expressly stated that he desired his personality and campaign in this state to be kept clear and apart from any contest that might ensue for control of the state committee. Late in view of publications that the faction supporting Senator A. O. Stanley had such a plan in view, Governor Cox has reiterated his intention to keep his candidacy clear of any intraparty fight. His wish has been respected.

The Times is further informed that an effort will be made by friends of Governor Cox in all the party factions to obtain the election of district delegates favorable to his candidacy for President. The present plan of the Cox League is not to ask for instructions of the State-at-large delegates, but to have district delegates instructed wherever possible, or failing that, to elect delegates known to favor Governor Cox.

While Senator Stanley is said to be personally for the Ohio candidate, the Times can state that the Cox movement is by no means confined to his political retinue in Kentucky many close friends of Senator Beckham and many Democrats who belong to neither faction are behind the Governor of Ohio in the belief that his presidential candidacy will carry this state and insure the re-election of the senior Senator.

In opposition to the Cox movement is the effort in behalf of former Secretary William G. McAdoo of the Treasury Department and it is more than likely that the Kentucky delegates chosen will divide their strength between Cox and McAdoo in the early balloting. The plan of the McAdoo Committee is not primarily to obtain open instructions of district and State-at-large delegates, but to elect known and privately pledged supporters of the President's son-in-law.

Why You Should Buy Guaranteed Roofing

When you buy roofing you want durability as well as shelter. You want to know that it will last long enough to make its average cost per year a reasonable figure.

That is why Certain-teed should appeal to you. For, when properly laid, Certain-teed Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight.

The guarantee adequately protects your investment, but it does not accurately measure Certain-teed's life. In fact no one knows just how durable Certain-teed is, because in no case has it ever been known to wear out on the roof.

And Certain-teed is more than durable. It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof. It effectively shelters your property.

With all these advantages, Certain-teed Roofing costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain, than any other type of good roofing.

See your dealer about Certain-teed. He either has it or can get it quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributing center.

EASTERN OPENS BASEBALL SEASON

The baseball season of the Model High School opened propitiously as well as auspiciously in Winchester yesterday afternoon when the local boys played the City High School team. Bedecked in brand-new uniforms of big league cut and style the flower of Model's baseball flock marched forth to a 17 to 10 victory.

Promptly at 3:15 Tom Adams soaked the first ball pitched for two bases but was thrown out when he attempted to stretch the hit into a three bagger. The bases were filled through errors and a hit. The second inning proved to be a nightmare for the Winchester boys before the smoke of the battle had cleared away thirteen runs had crossed the plate and one of Winchester's star pitchers was driven to cover. The game was quite interesting from this point.

The local boys were handicapped by the absence of Bill Crutcher, first-string catcher. Bill was confined to his home with tonsilitis and could not make the trip. Farley was called from the infield and did nicely behind the bat, but showed lack of practice in that position. He is a good man to have around as he can play any position on the team.

Dunaway had the Winchester boys at his mercy throughout the entire game. His speed and curves were too much for the youngsters from our neighboring city.

Line-up for the locals Farley, C., Dunaway, P., Adams, H., Minter, 2B., Allen, B., Nolan, SS., Arnold, L. F., Covington, CF., Jones, RF., Parks, Sub.

Notes On The Game

Farley worked like a beaver throughout the game. He showed the opponents that it was dangerous to test his strong right arm.

Dunaway struck out four men in one inning. Not impossible at all. One of the men reached first on error by the catcher. Seventeen men whiffed during the game. Some record.

Adams tore his new suit in making a desperate slide for third in the first inning.

Minter is nursing a sore cheek. On an attempted double play the ball caromed off Bill's glove and struck him on the cheek. It was a "stunning" blow.

Bunk Allen had an easy time at Third. The only chance he had, he didn't handle.

"Cap" Noland was the heavy hitter of the day. Noland poled out a home run in the first inning, but was forced to hit again after the umpires decided it must have been a foul. When Noland came up in the second inning with the bases full, he pulled his cap over his left eye, squared-off and looked the first one over. The second pitch suited him and he whaled it out of the park for a home run that the umpires could not question.

Arnold Covington and Jones played their positions well. Neither had a chance but they were there with the stick. These are the light-weights of the team, but dangerous men to pitch to in a pinch.

Bone-head plays and overthrows throughout. The other team made the bone-head plays, our boys did the overthrowing.

May 10th the two teams will play again. We shudder to think of the score-keepers job. Coleman Covington has agreed to bring his father's adding machine to the campus on that day.

CHANDLER SIX Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Two Great Chandlers Right Out In Front

HERE are two Chandler Six models which the big and constantly expanding Chandler factory production has never been able to build in volume that could supply the demand of discriminating motor car purchasers. They are the Chandler Six Touring Car and Dispatch Car, the former a big, handsome, roomy, comfortable, real seven-passenger car; and the latter a trim, smaller car, suggestive in its appearance of all the good things of outdoor life. The Dispatch Car has a touch of snappy style in its clean lines, and is strikingly finished in the beautiful Chandler Rainbow Blue. It seats four persons in restful comfort.

Both the Chandler Six Touring and Dispatch Cars are mounted on the same standard Chandler chassis, developed, through seven years of manufacture, to a surpassing point of excellence and famous for its really marvelous motor. The Chandler Car is priced much lower than other cars which may, perhaps, compare with it.

A GREAT MEETING

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church had an all day meeting Friday, which was a success in everyway. Subject of the bible lesson was: "Some Women of the Bible That I Know" This was conducted by the President, Mrs. E. H. Bybee. Eighteen ladies represented a character of a woman spoken of in the bible, which was very interesting as well as instructive. There were thirty ladies who took part in the day's program. The ladies who went as delegates to the annual meeting gave a full report of their visit at the noon hour. An elaborate lunch was served to over a hundred people all were led in their praise of this splendid day and the president is being heartily congratulated and it will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to be present.

HOW PRESBYTERIANS

WILL SPEND MONEY $17,025. For publication and Sun-day school extension will be spent fund being raised by Presbyterians in $4,540. Both the Assembly's Train-synod of Kentucky will be spent on school and the American Bible Society will be beneficiaries to the extent of $1,362. The American Bible Society is an organization, non-sectarian in purpose and scope, which has synods and presbyteries support quite a number of local institutions which are directly under their control, and this portion of the fund will go to people all over the world.

The Presbyterian Progressive Program in the synod of Kentucky is meeting with wonderful success, according to Dr. Hopper. The every-member canvass will be held April 25-May 2.

LAINE MAKES HIS REPORT TO COURT

Henry A. Laine, Madison county's efficient Colored Farm Agent and Demonstrator gave a detailed report of his work for the past three months to the fiscal court at its regular meeting Tuesday. Laine submitted his report in writing and it was heard with much interest and approval by the magistrates. His report of the work he has done during that period is as follows:

Richmond, Ky., April 1, 1920.

Judge W. K. Price, and Gentlemen of the Fiscal Court of Madison County:

I hereby submit to you my third Quarterly Report as Agricultural Agent, working among colored citizens of the county. This document reports a continuation of the kind of work I have been doing, as reported in former quarterly reports, that is I have tried to get the colored farm people to see and appreciate the honor, dignity, and responsibility of being an American citizen dwelling in peace and safety beneath the protecting folds of the stars and stripes and sharing with other folks in the wonderful, unprecedented prosperity which has come, unrivaled in history to Madison county. First I desire to say that the relationship between the races remains friendly and naturally helpful. No racial upheavals such as have marred the friendly relations of the races in other sections flashing ominous shadows over our sky of peace have occurred in good old Madison county and I believe that court records will bear me out in saying that there is great improvement going on among colored citizens and a growing respect for law and order. We colored people hang our heads in shame on account of some of the crimes charged against our race, but we are proud to note a growing sentiment against mob-violence among white people and especially in the South. Knowing that the prosperous citizen is generally the law-abiding citizen and that colored men who own or rent land or who have bank accounts, are the ones who use their influence to check the strong tendencies of the more thoughtless among us and are the hope of my race. This calls needs to be encouraged. So as agents I have done what I could do to point out the way to success, by means of lectures, bulletins, letters, roadside talks, friendly chats. Since December 31st 1919 when my last quarterly report was made, I have addressed nine gathering of various kinds with a attendance of 470 persons, have written 136 letters on various topics of current interest sent out 55 bulletins pertaining to farm, garden, orchard live stock, poultry, dairy, home making and related topics. held 127 personal interviews, received 22 calls at my office on professional matters besides the unaccounted calls and interviews. I might add that I attended the great meeting of County Agents of the state of Lexington State College, January 31st to February 4th, and was greatly benefitted by the talks, lectures and lanternslide views given. I have not been able to do some things I should like to have done on account of the disagreeable winter and bad roads, but am thankful that I have been able to contribute something to the welfare of Madison county.

Yours humbly,
HENRY A. LAINE,
County Demonstration Agent.

HILLELMAYER ON FRUIT

(Lexington Leader) The present blizzard is not unusual to the month. Severe frost, with or without snow, has occurred more than a dozen times in April in the past fifty years.

The damage to fruit and clover just sown has very uniformly been greater by dry cold than when coupled with snow. It is notable that there are three periods when these visitations may be expected—during the first week, at the close of the second and the beginning of the fourth but with one exception there has been no really severe and protracted term of inclemency. The exception was in 1907, when damaging frosts occurred on the 1st and 2nd and on the 14th. Accepting this deduction we may hope to escape further frosts, but if they do occur, they may be expected about the middle or near the end of the month.

We are promised even a seed time and harvest, but even this consoling assurance may be assailed. The last snowstorm in 1881 occurred on April 9, and it was a week thereafter before a furrow was turned, while in 1875, between June 23 and August 1, some twenty inches of rain fell. Last year's experience in seeding and harvesting place in close juxtaposition the two propositions of sowing and saving, and while the time for both may have been allotted it was a skimp indeed.

It is, however, the usual sequel of a belated spring that the resultant crop is above the average, because the seed then sown has the reasonable expectation of immediate germination and continuous and vigorous growth. Preparing the soil when too wet is the greatest deterrent, and he is a philosopher that appreciates all good things come to those who wait, and that patience ever has a perfect reward. The opinion is entertained that this spring will be late, very late perhaps, but crowned with many blessings.

The prospects for a bumper fruit crop of all kinds was never fairer. The month of all humanity waters, for these luxuriant givings of the earth, especially after the barrenness of the year just passed and should this expectant yet to be blighted, many will regretfully exclaim: "Ever thus from childhood's hour I've seen my fondest hopes decay." But there is one fruit that never fails—the grape—and let the barge be entertained that every vine be pruned that it may yield at its best. There is a common but erroneous belief that if the pruning be deferred until the vine "bleeds," it will be ruined. A sugar maple may be tapped for a hundred years without impairment of vigor, and why not a vine?

There was never so much zeal in planting nor interest in the management of the vine as now, and is the lurking suspicion unfair that many good people are preparing to brew the cup that cheers?

Pepto-Mangan, Nature's Beautifier

It Is The Coloring Matter Of Pure Blood That Makes A Good Complexion

Beauty is more than skin deep. No one can have a clear, delicate skin, glowing with health, if the blood is impure or lacking in the vitality necessary iron that gives the coloring matter to the "life fluid." Neglect of regular and necessary waste elimination, helps to render the blood impure and reduce its iron contents. The best cosmetic in the world is pure, healthy, iron-rich blood.

Doctors, realizing the importance of enriching and improving the blood, have for years prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the pleasant and proved blood builder and tonic.

Pepto-Mangan contains just the elements needed to change thin, watery blood to good, red blood, Pepto-Mangan builds rich, red blood, enabling it to carry strength and vigor to every part of the body.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan has become so well known, by reason of doctors recommending it, that you can get it in tablet or liquid form at any drug store. Instead of trying to cover up a poor complexion, get a bottle of Gude's Pepto-Mangan and note how soon you feel better, sleep better, work harder, play with more zest—and how your skin and complexion are improving.

Only make sure to get the genuine. It has "Gude's" on the package.—Adv.

Laboratory Tested Feed

Purina Cow Chow is laboratory tested and machine mixed. This means that your cows get a uniform quality ration, which prevents them from going "off feed" and insures maximum milk flow.

You know that if a cow is thrown off her feed by improper mixing, or feeding off-quality grain, it may take days to get her "back." This results in a heavy loss of milk.

Purina Cow Chow

is your best safeguard against such losses. Every ingredient that enters into Purina Cow Chow must come up to a rigid standard of quality. Not only is the quality of the grain guarded, but the ingredients are accurately measured and mixed by machinery. For that reason, Purina Cow Chow is bound to be absolutely uniform

Just the right elements are included to balance the tragease and silage that you produce. Your milk records will prove the feeding value of Purina Cow Chow. Let us put your herd on a test.

BOONESBORO

Little brown eyes closed in slumber, Never on earth to open more Fondly we will guard its treasures As we have in days of yore. He has left us brokenhearted;

We can kiss his lips no more, For the angel came and bore him, To that bright and celestial shore, Gone and left our home so lonely,

On that cold and gloomy day Precious blossom that we loved, Called to join that happy throng, And we know that he is waiting By the river over there,

Until we meet again in heaven, Little brother, farewell, farewell.
